The beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey was thrown open to the public on Tuesday evening, the entertainment being a concert in aid of the Ladies' Society of Central Union Church. It was distinctly a social, artistic and financial success.

The music room, where the concert was given, has a seating capacity of 150 and the acoustics are particularly good. The concert was thoroughly enjoyable and the following artists participated: Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. W. L. Whitney, Miss Werthmuller, Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mr. Arthur Wall assisted by Mrs. Otis; Miss A. Judd, Miss C. Hall, Miss G. Hall, Miss Lishman and Miss Hyington; Messrs. Buch, Marx, Milet and Dr. Ramus were the string quartet and Mr. Edmunds of Ewa gave a solo and also sang a duet with Mr. Meichers. The concert lasted only an hour and each number was excellent.

The Chronicle has the following paragraph about a singer well known to Honolulu audiences: Jessie MacLachlan, sweet-voiced Scottish singer, and John McIndeen, the talented Scottish cellist, made their reappearance in San Francisco last evening after a long absence, spent in a triumphal tour of Australia. The concert, given at the National Hall under the auspices of the Clara Franer, No. 78, of the Order of Scottish Clans, was a delightful one, and will be followed with a second tomorrow evening. With the "March! March! March!" of "Blue Bonnets," and "Impudent Barney O'Hea," a delightful bit rendered as an encore to "Killarney." Miss MacLachlan completely won the hearts of her auditors. Her other selections were all redolent of the Highlands, and all were well rendered. Mr. McIndeen, with a magnificent Antonio Stradivarius cello of the vintage of 1725, presented to him by an Australian admirer, bore an important and pleasing part in the entertainment. The accompanist was Robert Buchanan.

Among the dinners of last week was a most agreeable one given by Captain and Mrs. Henry Lyon. Among the guests were Lieut. and Mrs. Cushman, Captain and Mrs. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Rannie Scott.

Mr. Sheffield Grace, who has been a guest at the Hawaiian Hotel for the past three months, sailed for Hilo on Tuesday for a short visit with his father, Dr. Grace, whose engagement to Miss Greenfield has just been announced. Mr. Grace expects to return to Honolulu in a few weeks.

A delightful little tea was given at the Moana Hotel on Sunday afternoon by Captain Sayce for Captain and Mrs. Stuart and Miss Maddern, who are spending the winter in Honolulu. Captain and Mrs. Stuart are from Perthshire, Scotland. Among the guests were Major and Mrs. Fuller, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes and Dr. Edward Armitage. Tea was served on the lanai.

Miss Gladys Graham will spend the school term in Honolulu, the guest of the Dickey's on Nuuanu avenue.

Mrs. Clifford Wood and two children are expected in April. The Hedemans, who have been occupying the Wood house, have leased the McInerney place at Waikiki for a year.

Mrs. Basil Combe of College street was hostess of a charming tea on Tuesday afternoon. The delicious refreshments were served from little tables on the lanai, and the guests much admired the portrait of the beautiful little daughter of the hostess which has just been painted by Mateo Sandoz. It is full length and the little one looks as if she would step out from the frame. It is so life-like. After tea "celebrities" among those present submitting with good grace to having the name of some famous person pinned upon her back. The questions, which were answered by yes or no, gave zest to the performance and the one who guessed the greatest number of names was given a prize. This was won by Miss E. Cameron and it proved to be a lovely Bohemian bon-bon dish in gold embossed flowers. The booby prize was given Miss O'Meara and it certainly consoled the recipient, being a Japanese puzzle box of carved wood. Among those present were Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Lange, Mrs. Niblack, Mrs. P. C. Jones, Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. Hawes, Misses O'Meara, Onys, Jones and Cameron.

On Sunday a jolly luau was given by Mr. Charles R. Shaw in honor of his birthday, at the Harbottle residence. Among those present were: Miss Brenda Fowler, Miss Tess Wharton, Miss Mabel Kinney, Miss Eva Kinney, Miss Keoloha Hookano, Miss Keiki Hookano, Miss Maria Pihai, Miss Eather Kahale, Miss Annie Mossman, Miss Louise Mossman, Miss Victoria Ahuna, Miss Annie Akina, Miss Mary Logron, Miss Lily Hussey, Mrs. Nellie Brown, Mrs. Christina Brown, Mrs. Harry Stein, Mrs. Isaac Harbottle, Mrs. Lizzie Hookano, Ernest Wilkes, Charles Place, Henry Auerbach, Harry Earl, Rupert Drum, Harry Stein, Charles K. Stillman Jr., Albert McDougall, Walter McDougall, Paul Jarret, Willie Stone, Fred. Weed, Luther Evans, Jack Desha, James Alloy, Isaac Harbottle.

Tantalus is always a delightful place for a picnic, and on Sunday, notwithstanding the rain, a very delightful picnic was given by Mrs. de la Nux in honor of Mrs. Rooney of San Francisco. Lunch was served and a jolly and friendly time spent discussing the delicious viands. Among those present were Mrs. Reavy, the guest of honor; Mrs. Ormand, Misses Marion Wright, Grace O'Brien, Eva Crais, Sophie de la Nux, Sallie Treadway; Messrs. H. Giles, F. E. Enos, G. E. Winn, C. W. Bishop, J. B. Long, J. B. O'Brien, H. H. Hinton, G. Spring, E. Todd, J. MacSwanson; Masters Stanley Wright and Bertie de la Nux.

Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris gave a dinner at the Moana Hotel on Sunday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Paton. The table was charmingly decorated with pink roses and maidenhair ferns and the place-cards with dainty bits of bric-a-brac attached were much admired. Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Deering, Mrs. Edward Damon, Miss O'Meara, a sister of Mrs. Lewton-Brain, lately arrived from India; Ex-Governor Cleghorn, Mr. John H. Bliss and Mr. MacKinnon.

Of much interest to Honolulu is the following paragraph about the Southard Hoffmans, who are very well known here. Mrs. Hoffman and her daughter Alice spent about a year here and young Hoffman was one of the most popular young men in Honolulu.

The Southard Hoffmans belong to the old Southern aristocracy and to the best set in San Francisco society. Mrs. Hoffman is still a beautiful woman, and her dignity and repose of manner are as unusual as she is attractive. She is a great favorite with the dowagers, as well as with general society. Judge Hoffman was one of California's best-known jurists. The family consists of three sons and two daughters. The sons, Ogden, Southard and Jack, are all great society men, and popular bachelors. There was a time when it was said no girl could be a success in society till she had been "rushed" by Southard Hoffman. Hoffman is still a perfect dancer and accomplished flirt. His brothers do not enjoy quite as great popularity as Southard. May and Alice Hoffman were two as beautiful girls as ever made their bow to San Francisco society. May Hoffman was a superior belle, and was a favorite with old and young. No cotillon could be danced at the Fortnightly or Greenway's did May Hoffman not have a hand in its leadership. She was courted by the men and adored by the girls. Small wonder, then, that all society was agog when she left to take a course of training at Bellevue Hospital, New York. It was there that the tragedy in her life began. She met the Reverend Johnston, society man, chaplain and idol of the New York Fire Department, settlement worker, and goodness knows what else—but married! He and Miss Hoffman eloped, and their sensational flight to Europe is not yet forgotten. Some time later his wife, a wealthy New York society woman, obtained a divorce, and he and his beautiful companion were married. They are now in New York, where he is said to be dying of consumption.

Alice Hoffman, the younger sister, is a stunning athletic girl, who took an active part in society until her sister's escapade occurred. Since then she has lived in San Rafael or at Bolinas, at both of which places she has attractive homes. The Hoffman girls each received a fortune from old Charles Mayer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann gave a dinner on Sunday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hanneberg, Mr. and Mrs. Du Roi and Mr. and Mrs. F. Klamp. Yellow cosmos in green Bohemian glass bowls formed the artistic table decoration.

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davies entertained at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. N. Paton, Miss O'Meara, Miss Han.

A San Francisco paper has the following about Mrs. May Mott-Smith Cunningham: "Mrs. May Mott-Smith Cunningham, the beautiful artist who became very quietly Mrs. Cunningham last week, is a member of the well-known Mott-Smith family of Honolulu, and where she is interested in an estate which brings her a good little income. She and her sisters are well known in Hawaiian society. Mrs. May's marriage with the distinguished looking Mr. Bird of Boston was quite an event, and caused a great stir in the island capital. In spite of the fact that it was considered a real love match, the union did not turn out happy. After spending a year or two in the East and in Europe, Mr. Bird returned to San Francisco, where she sued for a divorce a year ago. She attracted considerable attention when the directors of Mark Hopkins Institute refused some of her choicest paintings for their exhibition. She was highly in-

The news of Miss Lurline Spreckels' engagement creates interest in the smart sets of many large cities where the charming fiancée is an important member of society. The United States may continue to claim Miss Spreckels as a citizen, as she has pledged her troth to an American and one of whom the nation may be proud by reason of his position and achievements, Spencer F. Miss Spreckels is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Spreckels, and went with her mother to Paris some months ago, where she has been among the favored of the elite.—Call.

Spencer F. Eddy, who is very well known, is from Chicago. He was graduated from the Harvard class of '95. In 1897 was made under secretary of Legation at St. James. In 1900 was first secretary of Legation at Constantinople and was charge d'affaires when Miss Stone was rescued from bandits. He is now at St. Petersburg and has been charge d'affaires during all the late troubles, acquiring himself with great credit and distinction.

Dr. Yost, U. S. N., was a classmate of Spencer Eddy at Harvard College, and is a very intimate friend.

Miss Lucy Fern, a very pretty girl, and Mr. George Wright were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Monday evening at Mrs. Fern's house in Kalihi. The bride wore an exquisite white silk mulle and carried bride's roses. A reception was held at the bride's home and delicious refreshments were served. Miss Terie Dickson was bridesmaid. The Rev. Mr. Parker performed the ceremony. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon in the mountains of Kalihi.

The "Mothers' lunch given by Mrs. Tenney Peck on Thursday in honor of Mrs. A. N. Locke, was a distinct success. The place-cards were engraved with the names of the mothers present, their daughters' names and their places of residence in infinitesimal writing. They were of bamboo and Hawaii painting made them souvenirs of interest to the guests. Those present besides the guest of honor were Mrs. S. T. Alexander, Mrs. Margaret Marx, Mrs. Jos. A. Richards, Mrs. Carabe, Mrs. Robt. C. Ray, Mrs. Jno. A. Slattery, Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. Geo. F. Kimball, Mrs. Louise Simpson, Mrs. Abbie S. Boyd and Mrs. W. D. McGilvray.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond de B. Layard gave a delightful dinner on Tuesday evening at the Consulate. Among those present were Governor and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. Pocklington, Miss Violet Harbottle, Miss Margaret Higford, Mr. Bruce Cartwright, Count de Sousa Canavarro, and Mr. David Anderson. After dinner the guests were entertained by music.

Messrs. A. C. McClurg & Co., of Chicago, have in preparation for publication in the spring a volume that should be of especial interest to people resident in the Islands. The work is entitled "Hawaiian Yesterdays," and is written by Dr. Henry M. Lyman, a distinguished surgeon of Chicago, whose father, Dr. B. Lyman, was a well-known missionary in the Islands in the early thirties. The book is a straightforward account of what a boy saw of life here in these early days, and gives much interesting material about prominent personages he came in contact with. The book will be crown octavo in size, and will be profusely illustrated.

One of the most delightful dances of the season was given on Thursday evening by Mrs. George Davies at "The Dingle," the charming residence at the Javies on Green street.

Myriads of electric lights brilliantly illuminated the grounds, outlining the driveway and lending an enchanting effect to the scene. Everything was done for the comfort of the guests, from the carpet which covered the board-walk to the house, and then extended to the dancing pavilion which had been especially erected for the occasion. This was a most elaborate affair, the outside being artistically decorated with palm branches, while in front flags of all nations made a most brilliant background for the beautiful tortilles, which were much remarked upon on Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Davies received their guests at the entrance of the pavilion. The Ellis Quintet Club furnished the perfect music, the floor was good, and the dancing began sharp at 9 o'clock. At a quarter to eleven the lower end of the pavilion was thrown open, revealing dozens of daintily arranged little tables at which the guests thoroughly enjoyed the delicious supper spread before them. Another effect, which was as sudden as it was novel, gave zest to the affair, for the rain descended and the wind blowing 40 miles an hour drove the guests to seek shelter in the house, and gave them a welcomed opportunity of hearing the vivacious music of the recent club jinks which was most realistically rendered by the Dillinghams, George Davies and Clifford Kimball, amidst wild cheers and much enthusiasm.

Bridge was, of course, most popular, and dancing continued after supper, including a set of lancers, until a late hour.

The evening was enjoyable from beginning to end and the guests bade their adieux with much regret that all good things must have an ending.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and do not doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, headache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhoea. These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I think that a woman naturally delicate to make her troubles known to the public, but restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women like me."

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a uterine trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

Buy up the empty bottles. "Are you really going into the 'rag, bottle, sack' business?" she asked when her fancy the rags and sacks end of it," responded Addie, "but the bottle appeals to me, don't you know. What's the difference between dealing in full bottles of champagne and empty ones?" But the bottle business didn't catch on, and so it was with any number of brilliant (?) stunts that would have given Newport the merry giggles and Mizner obeyed the inner voice, which said, "Young man, go East." But after all, a certain amount of conventional restraint spells "balance," so we need not feel so very bad about "teasing up to provinciality." — News-Letter.

Mr. Frederick Haskins, the correspondent has just been married to his private secretary.

The organization of a kennel club has been received with enthusiasm. As a result we shall probably see dogs of better breed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Abel pleasantly celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary by giving a tally-ho drive and picnic at Niihau.

Mr. Babbit, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has gone to the other islands on an inspection tour.

Mrs. Pocklington entertained at the Alexander Young Hotel last evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris.

The marriage of Miss Mary Nott, daughter of the well-known Mr. John Nott, and Mr. Louis Brown occurred at the Nott residence on Luunalihi street on Wednesday evening. The Rev. Canon Mackintosh performed the interesting ceremony and the bride was given away by her father. Many of the custom house officers were present and a large check was given by them to the bride and groom.

The Nott residence was charmingly decorated with flags and bunting and the interior was made very attractive with flowers and ferns.

Mrs. Selma Kinney, at whose residence the College Club met on Tuesday, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. W. Crockett, Mrs. Walter Frear and Mrs. Richard Ivers. The refreshments were served at once in order that the inner man might be fortified to listen to the intellectual treat which was of an unusually high order. Mrs. Dillingham poured tea and Mrs. Henry Castle presided at the coffee urn. After that Mrs. Frear presided at the business meeting. The new officers for the next year were elected as follows: Mrs. Frear, president; Mrs. Day, vice president; Mrs. Will Whitney, treasurer; Mrs. Frear, told about the club and aims in an interesting manner. Then came the program for the afternoon. It consisted of two piano solos by Miss Kinney, beautifully rendered and the charming read of an unpublished Hawaiian story by Mrs. Day. Among those present besides the regular members were Mrs. Alexander Scott and Mrs. Osborne, invited guests. Among the members were: Mrs. Hobdy, Misses Mary and Agnes Alexander, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Frank Atherton, Mrs. Westervelt, Mrs. Henry Castle, Mrs. Walter Clark, Mrs. F. R. Day, Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Misses Huntington, Alice Jones, Smith; Mrs. Ivers, Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. George Waterhouse, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Will Whitney, and many others.
